WHAT'S HAPPENING
WINTER 2009

Hello and thank you for reading my quarterly e-update. In this second issue, I once again share with you my newest paintings and humbly ask for your feedback. I'm thrilled to announce my work has found its way to All In The Frame Gallery in Venice and I introduce Bo Baby Bullfrog, a precious character in oil.

Meet Bo Baby Bullfrog

little fellow, big curiosity

When I first sketched this baby frog, using a sheet of college-ruled notebook paper while waiting for my latest NCAA Football artwork to render one afternoon at Electronic Arts, I immediately fell in love with his curious eyes. My thoughts ran away with me as I imagined all the adventures he might take and the natural wonders he might discover as this baby frog explored his world. What we he think of a lightning bug, a wonder that often amazed me as a child? How would he react to a tiny, red lady bug hanging out on a leaf? And when he discovered his own reflection in a pool of water, oh the questions.

Hey You

Hey Me

Bullfrog or not (actually not), his named rolled off my tongue as Bo Baby Bullfrog and it stuck. Bo Baby Bullfrog and his first adventures quickly became favorites and he has become the subject on many a canvas. His appeal spans all ages as each of us can see our own curious youth in Bo's big eyes as he watches butterflies swarm around him or waits out a small rain shower beneath the shelter of a leaf.

Bo Baby Bullfrog's latest adventure involves plans to take him from the canvas on my easel to the pages of a children's picture book. Each page from the book will first exist as an original oil painting on canvas. The first two paintings in the Bo Baby Bullfrog series have already been sold, but there are plenty more to come!

I can only hope you have as much fun with Bo Baby Bullfrog as I have!

All In The Frame

Venice, Florida

I am pleased to announce my work has been selected for display and sale in All In The Frame Gallery in Venice, Florida. The quaint, ocean-front town and its main street of shops is the perfect match for many of my sea life and seascape oil paintings.

In the gallery you will find Perry deVick, very helpful and well-educated in fine art. If you're in the area, you can visit All In The Frame Gallery at 243 W. Venice Avenue. To enquire directly about any of my artwork on display (including many of the above-listed Rookies), please call 941-485-7600 or email Perry at the following email address: perry@allintheframe.com.

In the coming months, I plan participate in Venice's monthly art stroll where I'll paint on the sidewalk area outside of All In The Frame Gallery. Please come out and visit, say hello and (as always) give me your feedback! If you'd like a schedule of when I'll be painting, just shoot me an email or visit my website.

The signature is always the most complicated part of any painting because I find it extremely difficult to ever call a painting complete. But if you view my painting and find yourself there leaned against a palm on the shore while your mind authors a light rain or a curious butterfly taking flight before you, then I suppose a painting is never quite complete. — Rob Kaz

I hate spam. Hate it. Believe me! For that reason, I send one newsletter once a quarter. That's it! You're on my list because you have shown an interest in my artwork, because you bought artwork and willingly shared your email address or because we're friends I want to show you my latest stuff. However, if you wish to be removed from my mailing list, please send an email and I will certainly respect your wishes.

Did you really scroll down this far? Leapin' Lizards!

If you did and if you're the first person to send me an email saying as such, then I'll send you a set of 4 stationary cards featuring some of my artwork. Well, what are you waiting on? (Oh, and for future reference, I like to have fun when I send out newsletters... so be on the lookout for other hidden opportunities in future newsletters!)

Get busy! Send me an email already!
